

Ava Diamond Intro for All Audiences

Ava Diamond has been sharing her wisdom since she was seven years old, when she taught “school” in her garage to 5 neighbor kids she bribed to be her “students.”

Now Ava takes her experience as a business owner, consultant, executive director, and Fortune 100 Manager –and distills it into powerful lessons that can be applied immediately.

Ava has worked with such household names as Hewlett-Packard, Coca-Cola, and IBM, as well as associations, universities, small business owners, and government agencies.

A sought-after presentation skills coach, she also works with people who want to get their message across powerfully to move people to action.

One of her role models is her beagle, Bud, who teaches her the art of relaxation, living in the moment, and shaking hands. (note to introducer...slide of Bud comes on the screen)

Please help me welcome, Ava Diamond.....

See next page for intro for women's events

Ava Diamond Intro for Women's Events

Ava Diamond has been sharing her wisdom since she was seven years old, when she taught “school” in her garage to 5 neighbor kids she bribed to be her “students.”

Today, her audiences, who she no longer needs to bribe, describe her as “down to earth,” “real” and “funny!” She is passionately committed to helping women live the lives they crave.

Ava takes her experience as a business owner, consultant, executive director, and Fortune 100 Manager — as well as a passion for hiking, chocolate, and making art—and distills it into powerful lessons that can be applied immediately.

A sought-after presentation skills coach, she also works with people who want to get their message across powerfully to move people to action.

One of her role models is her beagle, Bud, who teaches her the art of relaxation, living in the moment, and shaking hands. (note to introducer...slide of Bud comes on the screen)

Please help me welcome, Ava Diamond.....